Owls Visit to the Green Britain Centre!

On Thursday last week Owls class visited the Green Britain Centre in Swaffham, Norfolk. Whilst they were there the children all went to the top of the wind turbine which is the only one in Europe that members of the public are allowed to go to the top of. The children all had to climb the 306 steps to the top and then back down again. As well as this the children looked around the rest of the centre learning lots of interesting things about recycling and being eco-friendly. The children all had a great time and behaved impeccably!

Mashi Theatre Show at SHC for Years 4, 5 & 6

On Wednesday last week the Year 4, 5 and 6 children visited the South Holland Centre in Spalding to watch a performance by Mashi Theatre called the Tales of Birbal. These were old Indian fables and stories retold through acting and puppeteering. The children had previously taken part in a workshop run by Mashi theatre at school and this visit helped them to see the whole thing brought together and brought to life. The children all had a fantastic time.

JPCSOs Assembly

On Monday 16th October the JPCSOs ran the whole school assembly highlighting people that they had spotted over the last term doing good things. These children were brought out to the front and given special stickers by the JPCSOs. This is not the first assembly that the JPCSOs have led and they are becoming quite expert at speaking in front of large groups of people. Well done to all of them!

Betty Bus For Schools

On Friday 13th October the school was visited by Betty Bus which is a fantastic interactive teaching resource for Year 5 and 6 children. This visit helped the children to learn all about the menstrual cycle and periods. All children, boys and girls, took part in this PSHE learning and they now know much more than they did previously. This opportunity was a small part of the larger topic that we cover in Herons class about the changes that our bodies go through during puberty. This helps to prepare the children for the changes that they may encounter and also helps them empathise with the changes that the opposite gender may go through.

Comic strip/ Cartoon Character Theme Day

Don't forget the first day back after the holiday, Tuesday 31st October will be our themed day for this term. The children are all invited to come in dressed as a comic book or cartoon character for the day. This day will be used to inspire our teaching and learning for writing. The children will have great fun doing activities which will be used to motivate them in their writing later in the week. Thank you in anticipation of your support.
