Headteacher for the Day Reward Treat

On Monday this week the children who had earned themselves ten stars had their reward of being Headteacher for the morning. They completed a book scrutiny and spent time in each of the classrooms observing the children. They had a special treat of a cream cake and cup of tea/coffee. The children really enjoyed their treat and really helped Miss Willows with her work. Well done to Miss Mansfield, Mr Pool, Mr Stacey and Miss Denham for earning their reward and thank you for your help! I am sure that you could all make fantastic Headteachers when you leave school!

Cycle Helmets

Following an accident on the main road in the village I have been asked to mention the importance of wearing a helmet and reflective items to make sure that you keep safe if you are out and about on the roads in the village. The JRSOs will be running a reflector shop during the first week after the holiday when children can buy reflectors to stick or clip to their bags or coats to ensure that they can be seen when it is dark. Also next term Ella, George and Amy Lenton will be starting a new trend of 'Helmet Buddies' to encourage all children to wear their helmets when they are out on their bikes!

Witches and Wizards Theme Day

Please remember that the first day back after the holiday, Tuesday 1st November, is our theme day of witches and wizards so we are asking all of the children to come dressed up as witches and wizards. The activities that they do will help to inspire their writing following the day. Thank you for your support with this, helping your children to enjoy their days at school.

Harvest Festival

Thank you all for the very generous donations that you sent in for Harvest Festival. There was lots of produce donated which we were able to box up to give to the senior citizens from Sutton St James and the surrounding local villages. Any produce which was not needed in this way was taken to Holbeach Hospital. The children all did a fantastic job in their class performances and with singing the songs together. Well done to everybody and thank you for coming to support the event.
